Four day festival MANUU to mark Maulana Azad's 120th birthday

MANUU Azad Day Celebrations

Maulana Azad National Urdu University organized a four day long cultural festival to mark the birth anniversary of the freedom fighter and India's first education minister Imam-ul-Hind, Maulana Abulkalam Azad. MANUU aims at spreading the legacy of Maulana Azad in the new generation of Indians.

MANUU has lined up series of symposiums and lectures.

On the first day of the festival on November 8, there was a lecture on Maulana Azad's work in the translation of Quran. Then another lecture in the afternoon on Azad's service to the Arabic language, followed by a cultural program in the evening at auditorium hall by MANNU students.

On the second day, speech and debating competitions were conducted , followed by a screening of a documentary on the life of Maulana Azad.

On November 10, in the morning a lecture was delivered on Maulana Azad's work in Persian language, followed by a symposium on the topic 'Maulana Azad vision of India and Minorities.' A creative drawing competition for school children was held in the evening.

Same day in the night a Sufi music programme, called 'Sham-e-Nagma' was organized in the open air auditorium. Delhi's Sufi singer Rekha Surya and his team performed a special Music performance. Later 'Azad day lecture' was delivered.
